Security 2023 Exhibition & Conference to showcase emerging security technologies and trends

30 August – 1 September, ICC Sydney

Australasia's premier security industry event, the Security 2023 Exhibition & Conference to be held at the ICC Sydney from 30 August to 1 September 2023 will bring together 5,000 security professionals from across Australia and the region.

Organised by the Australian Security Industry Association Limited (ASIAL) and Diversified Communications Australia, the Security Exhibition - the largest security exhibition in the country - will showcase innovative and ground-breaking security technologies such as AI and machine learning, video analytics and surveillance, biometrics, cybersecurity, cloud-based solutions, mobile access, robotics and drones.

The 38th ASIAL Security Conference held in conjunction with the Security Exhibition, features an exceptional line-up of local and international security experts, including:

- Stephen Scheeler, CEO, Omniscient and Former CEO, Facebook (ANZ) – Artificial Intelligence, data and the future of security;
- Mark Anderson, National Security Officer, Microsoft (ANZ) - Defending Ukraine: lessons from the Hybrid War;
- Dean Drako, CEO and Founder, Eagle Eye Networks (USA) - Cloud and Artificial Intelligence Transformation;
- Dr Travis Deyle, Founder & CEO Cobalt Robotics (USA) - Robotic Process Automation for security using physical robots;
- Andrew Cooke, Head Safety Security & Access, FIFA Women's World Cup 2023 (ANZ) - Delivering a Safe and Secure FIFA Women's World Cup 2023.

Commenting on the event ASIAL CEO Bryan de Caires said “the technologies and solutions provided by Australia's $12 billion private security industry form a vital and integral part of Australia's national security mix.” “Over three days the Security Exhibition & Conference will illustrate just how critical this role is and the innovative new security technologies available to keep us safe.”

According to Soren Norgaard, Event Director of Security 2023 from Diversified Communications, “The Security Exhibition & Conference is set to showcase an array of cutting-edge security technologies that will leave you inspired and provide a glimpse into the future.”
