MESSAGE FROM THE PRIME MINISTER

AUSTRALIAN SECURITY INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION LTD
50TH ANNIVERSARY GALA DINNER

I offer my warm congratulations to the Australian Security Industry Association Ltd (ASIAL) on the occasion of your 50th anniversary and acknowledge a sector that performs such important work for the Australian community.

Your diverse industry generates around $8 billion in revenue and covers a range of activities including personnel, electronics, and physical security. With more than 6000 security businesses employing around 45,000 people, it is vital to the growth, flexibility and resilience of our national economy.

Since its establishment 50 years ago, ASIAL has performed a key role safeguarding and upholding standards as well as driving innovation. It has also been a strong voice for fairness and integrity, representing the interests of industry to state and federal governments.

Today ASIAL members can look back with pride on an achievement-filled past, but also look forward to performing a key role in the Australian security industry’s success into the future.

This is a very special anniversary and I hope it inspires everyone who has gathered tonight to continue the great work for another 50 years and beyond.

Prime Minister of Australia
